

The Legacy of Standing Rock: Activism in the Pacific Northwest

Vanessa Castle resided at Standing Rock for five months, until the camp closed. She will discuss her reasons for going, the authorities' brutal treatment of the water protectors, and how we can take the message of Standing Rock home.

Matt Krogh, of Stand.Earth, protects the West Coast from oil, gas, and coal terminals. He will discuss the Kinder-Morgan pipeline and other fossil-fuel initiatives, and sustainable energy alternatives.

Mike Doherty served as Clallam County Commissioner for 20 years. He will discuss local efforts to protect our communities and what you can do to participate.
